Meet Opportunity Half Way; Ride In New Chevrolet Sedan July 1

Observations...

By the Editor

State Highway Commissioner John D. Smith, certainly tried to make the Rotarians and their guests feel that his sole thought was to try to please the folks down here as to the location of the bridge. Of course there was the usual engineering and specification questions involved and which had to be met. Sometimes we think our sole purpose is to serve as guinea pigs for the new fangled ideas of some road association. It may be thick but we just can't get it through our head why it is necessary to try and put a 10 foot shoulder on the side of each lane of traffic on a short roadway through the city of Bay St. Louis. Where else in the state has this been done? Taking the shoulders off reduces the amount of right-of-way needed, and with this no excuse to move the highway. And another thing, John, you haven't yet explained where the state gave us back $1,853,000 in Hancock County since 1936. If that statement is true it must have been poured in Pearl River. Perhaps you are counting the Federal money which was spent on Highway 90 under a W. P. A. appropriation. We are quite interested in your statement and certainly would like for you to give us a resume of where this money was spent, and the source from which it came. Just don't tell us that we got that much and leave us thinking... In a few days many of our young people will receive their high school diplomas, in fact Bay High will hold their commencement exercises tonight. These boys and girls who will graduate from our schools, will either further their education or enter the business world, in any event, they stand as potential leaders of the future. We offer to them our congratulations and good wishes, and hope they will ever bear in mind the many opportunities their country offers them, ever realizing that here we are able to live our lives as we wish, free to express ourselves, free to worship as we please, free to think as we please, just about free to do anything we want. It's great when you think of the countries behind the Iron Curtain, could you wish for more than you have had in this great country of ours. Well it is going to be up to you boys and girls, and the many others like you throughout our nation to continue your leadership to maintain it... And, speaking of graduations, Brother Alexis, S. C. President of St. Stanislaus will deliver the graduation address at the Pass Christian High School on Friday Evening May 26... In order to teach our boys the principles of government the American Legion sponsors Magnolia Boys' State each year. Civic and fraternal organizations sponsor the boys who attend. This year we will have three boys from this County, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Lions Club and Pere LeDuc Council of the Knights of Columbus. The boys who will attend are Lucien M. Gex, Jr., and John McCurdy of Bay St. Louis and Claude Mauffray of Kiln... A real treat is in store for the people of Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian this Saturday... Nineteen troops of Boy Scouts including the Bay and Pass troops will parade here at 2:00 o'clock and at 3:00 o'clock at the Pass. The occasion is a two-day camporee of the Boy Scouts from New Orleans, Slidell and this district to be held at Pass Christian. Give these youngsters a warm reception when they come here. Remember the Boy Scouts are real American Boys tutored in love of country. The effects of the many isms, will never find their way into the heart of good Boy Scouts... Accompanying these boys will be many adults, their parents, scout masters, etc. and many of these people will be here in Bay St. Louis during this period make them feel a warm welcome... It probably would have made many of us feel good to see the expression on the face of Grandpa Harry Holderith, when his new and first granddaughter arrived. Harry and the Mrs. have been in Hopeville, Ga., for a number of days awaiting the arrival of the stork at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Evans. Mrs. Evans is the former Miss Rosemary Holderith. Their daughter, Rose Lynn, was born at 8:15 A. M. May 17, and weighed 6 pounds.

Gex, McCurdy, Mauffray Named To Attend Magnolia Boys' State

Lucien M. Gex, Jr., Saint Stanislaus; John McCurdy, Bay High; and Claude J. Mauffray, Kiln Consolidated school will represent Hancock County at Magnolia Boys' State July 15 to July 22. The Lions' Club, the Rotary Club and the Pere Le Duc Council of the Knights of Columbus accepted the invitation from the American Legion to sponsor three boys who were selected by the principals of their schools.

Boys' State is a plan for training in the functional aspects of citizenship. It is a program of education sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Mississippi. Its program to teach the youth of today constructive attitudes toward the American form of Government.

Magnolia Boys' State demonstrates that the system of constitutional democratic government is the best of all possible systems and that the essential needs of a democracy are an intelligent citizenry, together with a clean, honest and impartial administration entirely responsive to the will of the people; two hundred twenty boys will be at Boys' State coming from every county in Mississippi.

In Boys' State the boys have their own city, county and state government, they elect their own city, county and state officials; and they learn the duties of various public offices, their functions and their powers. They have their legislature, introduce and argue their own bills, and have city councils and city officials. They make and enforce ordinances regulating their cities, conduct their own election; they have a police force court of law and administer justice.

The boy has a chance to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it.

Every boy will have a definite and integral part in the function of Boys' State. The splendid facilities of Behaven College will be available to the boy-citizens of Magnolia Boys' State; of particular interest will be the sessions of the legislature in the House and Senate Chambers in the New State Capitol where the young officials will conduct their own sessions in the halls where the laws of Mississippi have been made for 47 years.

This is a program designed for boys of high moral character, good sportmanship tendencies as demonstrated based on their outstanding accomplishment in the school and community, it is a program for the development of leadership as well as the development of citizenship.

Magnolia Boys' State presents an opportunity to the young men who will be the future leaders of the country.

Red Cross Holds Annual Meeting

Big "Everybody Wins" Subscription Contest Just Starting Not Too Late To Enter Race Actively to Win Any One Of Many Valuable Prizes Offered By The Sea Coast Echo

By BILL GUPTON, Contest Editor

If an opportunity were presented whereby you could own a new Chevrolet Styleline Deluxe Sedan, fully equipped and worth exactly $2157.29 without cost on your part during the next six weeks, would you seize that opportunity and make the most of it?

Or, if you were offered $750.00 cash for a little spare time during the next few weeks—with the positive assurance of being liberally compensated for every result obtained—would you stand back, hesitant and undecided? At first, no doubt, you would entertain the thought that "surely it is not real; I never could get so much, so easily and so quickly." But, while thinking all these things if, indeed, thinking at all you'd let someone else, more alert and aggressive, step in and beat you to it!

Now the reason for the above statement is that the Sea Coast Echo is offering just such opportunities to wide-awake, energetic men and women, as well as to the more ambitious young people residing in this area, when it invites you to enter its big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest. It is just starting and you most certainly can profit mightily through spare time effort during the next few weeks.

John D. Smith Addresses Rotary Club May 17

John D. Smith, State Highway Commissioner, was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, held Wednesday at Hotel Reed.

Prefacing his remarks, following his introduction by Alden Mauffray, president-elect of the Rotary Club, Mr. Smith cited that the State Highway Department was controlled by laws enacted by the Legislature of the for his department were controlled by the State of Mississippi; that all appropriations for his department were controlled by the Legislature; and in fact the Mississippi Highway Department was a creature of the Legislature, who even had the power to abolish it. "The Legislature is representative of the people," Mr. Smith said: "and we the highway department being a creature of the legislature are therefore servants of the people, and it is our desire to give to our people what they want."

ENGINEERS PRESENT

He suggested that it would probably be more profitable to his audience if, during the discourse, questions were propounded, feeling that this course would be followed, he had asked his engineers to come along in order to be able to answer the questions to the problems in which all were interested.

He dwelt at great length on the subject of the Mississippi Gulf Coast being a special problem as far as highway 90 was concerned, and asked the question as to whether or not the people of the Coast felt they had been discriminated against because of the passage of the toll bridge statute. He cited figures to show that in his opinion the coast had not been discriminated against, relating how Hancock County had only paid to the State from 1936 to 1948, in gasoline tax the sum of $288,040.84 and that the State Highway Department had spent during this period the sum of $1,853,165.00. Questioned as to the expenditure of this amount, Mr. Smith, said it had been spent on highway 90, highway 11 and highway 42. He agreed that highway 90 was the most travelled highway in the State of Mississippi, and that the Mississippi Gulf Coast highway was really not the problem of the three coast counties but of the State of Mississippi, and that the State should have sufficient pride to take care of it. The representatives of the other counties are not interested in our problems.

THREE SUGGESTIONS

He stated that many charges had been made against him as to the allocation of funds of the department since he came into office, but that he was powerless to alter the situation; and that he was also charged with the passage of the toll bridge law; but this was not true, he only urged the necessity of doing something, and made three suggestions to the legislature—the issuance of full faith and credit bonds to the State of Mississippi, or the issuance of revenue bonds, to be paid from the gasoline tax, or the toll bridge statute.

Mr. Smith said that his department would build the bridge as soon as vital facts are settled, and that it would be built to the satisfaction of the people of Bay St. Louis and Henderson Point, which of course was a big proposition because he realizes the people do not want their business area abandoned. He was faced with the problem of building the tight type of road, with four lanes, parking area, sidewalks, which would require 96 feet of right of way. In order to have this amount of right of way they were faced with the further problem of the high school and water tower in Bay St. Louis. It is his duty, Mr. Smith added, to build a highway to serve all, and his department is trying to meet the plans and specifications of the Interregional Road Association in building primary highways.

SUGGESTED PLANS

Questions were asked Mr. Smith as to the necessity of a 10 foot shoulder in each lane of traffic, and he said this was a part of the specifications of the Interregional Road Association. Questioned as to whether the Beach road in Harrison County met these specifications, he stated that it did. The suggestion was then offered that a similar type road could be constructed through Bay St. Louis without the added 20 feet of shoulder. The requirements without the shoulders, would be for two lanes of 24 feet each, a four foot neutral ground, sidewalks, and parking bays at various intervals.

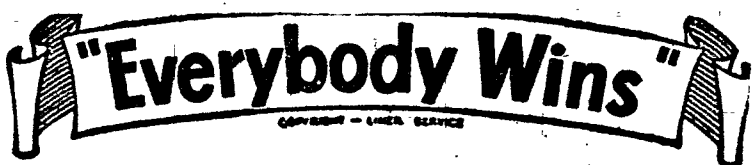

Following his talk, there were a number of informal discussions held with Mr. Smith and his engineers and those present.

In attendance at the meeting were Floyd Brainerd of the Pass Christian Club, Dr. Emmett Irwin of the New Orleans Rotary Club, Fred Moore and Billy Stevens of the Picayune Club. Guests on this occasion, were Leo W. Seal, Mrs. Scott Assenheimer, Cyril Glover, Warren Carver, Sylvester Pagano, George Curet, Fred Lander, C. W. Fountain, Dr. J. F. Dicks, Mrs. George Stevenson, Bill Hayes, Miss Mae Edwards, Bruce McKay, J. C. Craig, L. W. Stewart, of the State Highway Department, and A. G. Favre.

The weekly attendance prize was won by J. J. Kelleher.

OPPORTUNITY BECKONS

Volumes could be written on the subject of "Our Opportunities." It is one of the queerest elements that enter into this complex existence of ours which is called life. Opportunity means everything, or it means nothing, depending upon how it is met and handled by different individuals. One person's failure to recognize it when it comes their way, for example, proves to be another's success.

Some of us sometimes wonder why people always seem to get ahead in this world, and alas, far too often we lament our lack of opportunities. Sometimes we make the flimsy excuse that we're too busy to take part in a proposition of this kind. Truly, we realize that everybody's busy these days. But, according to the writer's observations, it is the busiest people in every community who invariably win the biggest prizes. Sometimes, too, while taking stock of our blessings, we mistakenly claim that Old Man Opportunity must have passed us by enroute elsewhere, or that we were not home when he knocked upon our door. However, such claims rarely even are based on facts. Instead, we just simply failed to recognize and seize opportunities when presented to us. Isn't that true?

MEET OPPORTUNITY HALF WAY

Dame Fortune is now knocking at your door. She is literally pounding upon it with both fists to awaken you to the opportunities existing in this big "Everybody Wins" subscription contest to utilize whatever spare time you will have during the next few weeks toward winning prizes worth thousands of dollars. Greet this opportunity NOW—before it becomes too late—and make the most of it. Remember, it costs absolutely nothing to try and you positively cannot lose. Remember too, that anything worth having in life is worth striving for. Just a few exhort weeks of interest and effect will be observed by the first list of entries appearing on the front page of this issue that only a comparatively few have entered the race so far. There are far too few entries, in fact, considering the extensive area to be covered, its population and the magnitude of this big prize offer. And it is by no means too late for anyone with sufficient ambition to better themselves a bit and share in the distribution of prizes to be awarded just six weeks from this Saturday-noon which is July 1st.

Next week, when the first standing of contestants is announced, makes the real beginning of what is destined to be a most interesting and highly profitable competition among local people of this area. It might be said in passing that those who have indicated that they are "out to win" by making a good showing at that time—undoubtedly will meet with better public response, than those who have not manifested proper interest in their own behalf.

Make up your mind right now—this very minute—to become an active participant and be a big prize winner.

"TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT" You are the one who has to decide. Whether you take it or toss it aside; You are the one who must make up your mind. Whether you lead or linger behind. Whether you pass through the door that's ajar, Or just be content to stay where you are. Take it or leave it; here's something to do. Act promptly on your convictions; IT'S ALL UP TO YOU!

IN CHARGE The general administration of the Rally will be under the direction of the Camp Director; every troop will be accompanied by one or more adult leaders and the Scouts will be directly responsible to their adult leaders who in turn will be responsible to the Camp Director.

At 2 p. m. Saturday, May 20, the troops will stage a parade in Bay St. Louis, and another parade will be held in Pass Christian at 3 p. m. Following the march here, the Scouts will be served refreshments by the Chamber of Commerce.

Following the parades the troops will return to the camp. Sunday morning they will attend church which will be followed by the contests starting at 9:30. At noon dinner will be served, and at 1:30 the closing ceremonies and presentation of awards will be held. The Scouts will break camp and leave for home.

Troop No. 276 of New Orleans will set up a First Aid tent.

While traveling to and from the camp site and while on parade, the Scouts will wear their summer uniform; scouts and leaders who do not have uniforms will not be barred from the parade or the camp.

By so doing, your generous act would not only serve a double purpose but you could then enjoy the satisfaction of having done your full share in making someone very, very happy for a long, long time to come!

RENDEZVOUS WITH AMERICAN HISTORY

Holding a "rendezvous" with George Washington and his heroic Continental Army, more than 40,000 Boy Scouts and leaders of the nation and a few hundred from overseas, will hold their second National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., June 30 to July 6.

In their 600-acre "tent city" the Scouts will camp together, swapping items of interest from their home areas, exchanging camping techniques, portraying American history in pageants and visiting historic sites. It will be a never-to-be-forgotten experience for most Scouts who will visit America's leading cities enroute to and from the greatest encampment of boys ever held in the Western Hemisphere.

YES, THERE IS A CATHOLIC ATTITUDE

...on Big Business...on the Worker...on Fascism...on Race and Color.

"But," you may ask, "what do you mean by a Catholic Attitude?" After all, what has religion got to do with Industry and Labor, Wages and Profits?

Just this much, friend. Religion is more than a Sunday morning affair - it affects every moment of your daily life. Life is made up of actions, one right after the other - and these actions are either good or bad. Religion gives us the moral standards to judge whether these actions are right or wrong!

It is a question of right or wrong - it concerns religion - if an employer deprives his laborers of their just wages...if a selfish group "corners" the market and works hardships on others...if a union calls a strike that will cripple the whole country's economy.

This is where the Catholic Attitude comes in. The Catholic Church would be failing its duty if it did not apply the law of God to the many problems that beset today's world.

When Christ lived among men, they learned from Him the Christian attitude toward the social questions with which they were faced. He refused to meddle in mere politics, but He was careful to tell rulers not to exceed their authority. He warned Pilate that he had no right to commit injustice for the sake of expediency. He rebuked hypocrites who took advantage of widows and orphans. He pointed out the right use of money and the moral obligations of the wealthy.

Of course, Christ said nothing about Communism, Trade Unions, or Capitalism. These questions did not then exist. But certainly to us they are every bit as important as those on which He spoke to the men of His day. And His voice is needed now to speak with the same authority for the solution of our difficulties.

Christ established His Church to teach all men to observe all that He had commanded - to direct them in the religion of every-day life.

It is for this reason we find the Apostles criticizing the intolerance of their fellow-countrymen and proclaiming the equality of the Gentile converts. We see St. Paul writing in great detail of the obligations of masters and servants, of husbands and wives. From St. Peter we learn about taxpaying and the obedience we owe to civil authorities. The Catholic Church continues this tradition today by expressing its attitude on the basically moral problems of modern society.

You will find it well worth your while to investigate the Catholic Attitude on matters that vitally concern us all: on Industry and Labor... Race and Color... Liberalism, Democracy and Communism. Write today for a free pamphlet explaining the Catholic Attitude on these and similar questions. Ask for Pamphlet No. 19 - NC.

In addition to several instrumental, the program will include the following three skits: "The History of Jazz"—an authentic picture of the evolution of Jazz from the primitive negro fanns to the modern complexities assumed in Stan Kenton's progressivism; "A Decade of Hits"—includes a resume of the top tunes of the nation dating back to 1940; "Stan Kenton's Montage"—is a tribute to this great component of modern jazz.

The instrumental section will include several standards among which is George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." The program was arranged as to be of interest to both, young and old. It is a presentation of Jazz in its many possible forms.

A "Club" of subscriptions in the big "Everybody Wins" Prize contest is any group of subscriptions totalling $18.00. For example, nine yearly subscriptions at the regular rate of $2.00 would constitute an $18.00 "club" on which 50,000 EXTRA votes are given in addition to the regular schedule of votes on each individual subscription. Such a combination for 77,000 votes altogether.

Two 5-year subscriptions amount to an even $18.00, likewise constitutes a "club" and as 25,000 regular votes are issued on each "full limit" subscription—plus the 50,000 extra votes due on a "club." This counts for exactly 100,000 total votes.

Those who make it their aim to obtain "one club a day" will undoubtedly be among the winners of the biggest and best prizes.

PASS CHRISTIAN NEWS

Gardeners Meet; Install Officers

By Mrs. Dora Lee Wainwright
Call 495

The newly organized garden club of Pass Christian met Thursday, May 11, at Trinity Church parish house. Officers who were unanimously elected and installed were Mrs. Dorothy Dempwolf, president; Mrs. Lelan Weyer, vice-president; Mrs. Martin Farrell, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Heistand, corresponding secretary; and Miss Rosalie Ambler, secretary.

Mr. Ivan Anderson, Pineville, Miss., noted horticulturist and landscape artist, addressed the group. Mr. Anderson, who lived in Washington, D. C. before moving to the Coast, has designed a number of Embassy gardens. He now has a lovely garden in Pineville where he grows unusual flowers and plants.

The City has been active in garden club work in past years and was known not only nationally, but internationally as well, with members touring Europe representing Pass Christian. The club was disbanded at the beginning of World War II.

Mrs. Dennis, who was also chairman of the annual Spring pilgrimage, states that there was so much interest shown by the townspeople at the time of the garden tours to organize a club that work toward that end was immediately started. An organizational meeting was held in April and at the May 11th meeting the club boasted a membership of ninety. Membership will remain open until the June 8 meeting, after that date members will be taken in groups of ten.

LIONS CLUB PLANS CRAB BOIL FOR MONDAY

The Pass Christian Lions Club will hold a crab boil for Ladies Night, Monday, May 22.

At the weekly meeting of the group, Monday, May 15, one of the local citizens, in appreciation for the good work being done in the city by the club, offered the Lions enough crabs for a party.

The nominating committee reported that they were unable to present nominations for officers at this time, and a special meeting was called for Wednesday, May 17.

The books had been checked he said; approved by a qualified auditor. The Home Making department also came in for recognition as was shown on more than one occasion by the dresses made and meals served by the students.

Mrs. S. J. Mauffray spoke for the P. T. A. saying that more parents had been attending meetings and a great spirit of cooperation had been shown; parents and teachers had been drawn closer through this work. She said her work as president of P. T. A. had been pleasant and she appreciated the cooperation of the school board and superintendent in helping her in the work.

Practice Pasture Management

By Howard F. Simmons

MY PASTURE MANAGEMENT
Many farmers have plenty of pasture grasses and clover this month, but there will not be plenty from now on unless good management is practiced.

The worst thing that can happen to pastures is overgrazing. It is best to keep only the livestock the pasture will support well.

After plenty of area is left for the livestock, two things which mean most to the pasture are changing from one pasture to another and running the mowing machine. The best friend the pasture has is the mowing machine, if it is kept running.

All pastures should be mowed this month and the manure scattered by dragging the Harrow. Scattering manure means much on clover pastures which have been grazing a lot of livestock. Grazing will be done evenly after the manure is scattered.

Plant millet for summer grazing; one acre of millet should be planted for each animal. Millet does best planted in rows and cultivated. It takes only 10 pounds of seed to plant an acre in rows, while it takes 30 pounds broadcast, and farmers report more grazing from rows than broadcast. Cultivation keeps the grass growing longer and better during the summer.

Be sure to nitrate. When phosphate or potash is low, apply 500 pounds of 5-10-5 or 6-8-8 mixed fertilizer in the drill at time of seeding. Do not broadcast fertilizer for row planting.

The calf crop is the future dairy herd; they should be given careful attention.

Feed calves regularly, in regular quantities, and from clean containers.

Nippled pails or nippled bottles are the best and safest method of feeding milk to yearling calves; teach the calves to eat hay and grain feed at 10 to 15 days of age. Keep the calf in a clean, dry stall or pen—individual pens are best.

Dairymen who have individual pens for their calves until three months of age have reduced losses to almost zero.

QUALITY MILK
Surplus milk and milk products may continue to be of some concern to dairymen and dairy plant management through 1950.

One way to help reduce the surplus is to produce milk of highest possible quality. Cool to low temperature and put the milk of its products on the market tops in quality.

SUMMER TREE PRUNING
Summer trimming or pruning of young trees will result in larger, better shaped trees in less time than by dormant pruning.

Unless summer training is practiced the first and second years after planting, low branches and "suckers" will often make excessive growth and prevent normal growth of the main part of the tree. By removing all low branches and thinning other branches when the new growth is four to six inches long, a more desirable framework or shape can be developed.

After studying the drawings above, you can more easily understand how Mississippians pay over 301 million dollars in federal taxes each year. Federal taxes, either hidden or shown, take a good "bite" out of the purchase price of each family item. Adding the cost of federal taxes to the cost of state government (approximately $131,500,000 for the next biennium in Mississippi) and local government, it becomes more apparent that taxes today take from 10 to 60 per cent of the salary made by the average wage-earner. Continued increase in taxes is making the measurement of income in dollars meaningless, and cuts down the American standard of living. The drawings above, which first appeared in the New York Journal-American, were released by the Taxation Committee of the Mississippi Economic Council to point out the average "tax bite" in the cost of goods.

Your State Health Officer Says

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of three articles on heart disease from the State Board of Health.

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, is today one of the most important, and at the same time, most common conditions affecting the heart. For people past 40, it has become the principal cause of heart trouble. As yet, the underlying basis for the majority of cases of high blood pressure is obscure, but there is much that can be done by medical science to alleviate the symptoms and to eliminate the unnecessary strain and wear on an already over-taxed heart.

What is and what is not abnormal blood pressure depends upon the individual. What is high for some may be normal for others. Contrary to popular belief, there is little truth to the adage that an individual's pressure reading should be 100 plus his age. Blood pressure in any individual can and does vary as much as 15 to 50 points daily, depending upon his emotional state and level of activity. For all practical purposes, medical authorities agree that any pressure persistently above 150 millimeters in the systolic phase or 90 millimeters in the diastolic phase is excessive. Of the two, the more significant is the diastolic reading, for it indicates the resistance met by the heart during its resting phase.

A vast amount of education in heart disease control is needed. A strong medical advisory committee of the State Medical Association was recently organized. This committee has representatives from all sections of the State and is composed of medical men who are particularly interested in heart disease. An unsuccessful effort was made to get the Legislature to appropriate a small amount of money to match Federal funds on the basis of $1.00 State to $2.00 Federal. The Legislature has adjourned without making such an appropriation. Very shortly, representatives from the several sections of the State will be called together for the purpose of organizing the Mississippi Division of the American Heart Association. An attempt will be made to effect an organization in every one of the 82 counties and in March, 1951 a fund-raising campaign will be inaugurated.

New Design For Machinery Aids Tung Producers

State College, Miss.—Anhydrous ammonia, increasingly popular as a fertilizer for row and forage crops, can now be used successfully in tung orchards as a result of engineering research recently completed by the Mississippi Experiment Station.

Aware of importance of nitrogen in the production of tung nuts, a group of South Mississippi growers invested approximately $100,000 in equipment for applying ammonia, both aqua and anhydrous. However, roots in the cut-over pine-land orchards and trash on the surface made operation of the equipment unsatisfactory. The growers then appealed to the Experiment Station to design equipment which would probably place and seal anhydrous ammonia in tung soil.

SOLVE TRASH PROBLEM
Agricultural engineers solved the problem of the trash by running a disk counter ahead of the ammonia applicator. The counter runs at three-inch depth and is swivelled to avoid the package that occurs when rigid counters strike roots.

Spring-tripping applicators were designed to reset themselves, after going over roots. A wing was added to the applicator which causes it to make a larger hole than the regular applicator. This provides more soil contact and increases absorption. A gas-pac wheel follows the applicator, sealing the ammonia in the soil.

BLUEPRINTS AVAILABLE
These new developments make it possible to apply the high rate of ammonia required for tung production and also overcome the obstacles of trash on the surface and roots in the soil, reports C. M. Baker, Experiment Station engineer who designed the equipment. "Blueprints and details of construction may be obtained from the Agricultural Engineering Department, State College, Miss."

Anhydrous ammonia has been used for crop production since 1947 when the Mississippi Experiment Station announced a practical means of applying it. That year 200,000 acres were fertilized with this new gaseous fertilizer. Its use has now spread to many other states and last year Mississippians applied anhydrous ammonia to a million acres of cropland.

Tips For Winter Storage

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Moth damage amounts to about $500,000,000 each year in the United States.

Such a high figure of moth damage is your fault, mine and everyone else who neglects to give proper care to woolen and fur garments.

The busy mother who leaves her children's mittens in the hall closet is responsible for part of the damage. So is the carefree bachelor who shoves his winter overcoat in the back of his clothes closet.

DEFENSE AGAINST MOTHS
Good care of garments is the first line of defense against moths and carpet beetles which also are to be reckoned with.

The carpet beetles are even hungrier and tougher than moths. Laboratories usually use carpet beetle larvae to test the effectiveness of moth preventatives and mothproofing compounds.

The flying moth and the black carpet beetle don't eat clothes themselves. They lay eggs on some fabric; then the eggs hatch out into worms or larvae, they have plenty of food at hand. Wool and fur are their favorite foods.

DISCOURAGE MOTHS
Sunlight, fresh air, brushing and frequent wearing make garments unsuitable places for moth eggs.

Moths will eat the wool fibers out of mixed fabrics. In general, the larvae of moths and carpet beetles eat animal fibers: Wool, fur, feathers, hair and things made from these fibers as clothing and fur and feather trimming, felt hats.

Wool lint collected around the baseboards of a closet is an ideal home for these insects and so are accumulations of cat and dog hairs.

MOTH-PROOFING
Fibers can be mothproofed. These moth-repellent chemicals must be applied as early as possible in the manufacturing process to gain the greatest effectiveness.

If you use a mothproofing chemical at home, follow the manufacturer's directions exactly. The only things that makes fabrics really mothproof is a complete penetration or coating of the finest fibers.

It is extremely hard to obtain this kind of penetration with home methods. Coat collar, pocket flaps, inside seams and cuffs are hard to reach. Reliable manufacturers make this clear on the label of mothproofing compounds.

PERMANENCY VARIES

How permanent mothproofing treatments are will vary. Many of the compounds are soluble in dry cleaning solutions; others are soluble in water. In either case the mothproofing must be renewed according to the manufacturer's directions. Reliable products have informative labels, and it pays to read them carefully.

Garments to be stored should be thoroughly cleaned to destroy all forms of moths already in them. Laundering in a strong solution of neutral soap or dry cleaning will do this. Place clean garments immediately in sealed paper bags or boxes, and they will be perfectly safe. Moths will not eat through paper.

LABEL BOXES

There must be no holes or tears in the box or paper. Moth bags which close tightly are fine for garments; small boxes are practical for accessories such as gloves. Seal these boxes with gummed paper tape. You might find it a good idea to put away woolen gloves, sweaters and scarves so you can open them one by one as you need them. Mark each box with a red pencil or household labels.

To feel more secure you might add a few moth crystals or moth balls; also recommended by entomologists is a 5 percent DDT spray or a 10 percent dust. Spray the clothes thoroughly and the closet as well.

If you feel you cannot afford to have every garment laundered or dry cleaned, you must get rid of moth eggs and moth larvae some other way. Try thoroughly brushing to dislodge the eggs and a good airing to help drive off the larvae—Take hidden places, air and sun well, then place the garment in a large airtight container or bag with plenty of moth crystals. The fumes will penetrate the garment thoroughly.

RIGHT new fields were discovered in Mississippi last year by the state's expanding oil and gas industry. These fields, named for nearby communities, are Bude in Franklin county, Sand Hill in Greene county, Armstrong in Adams county, Rodney and Russum in Jefferson county, Sharon in Jones county, Possum Corner in Wilkinson county and Hartman in Lincoln county.

OPERATING under a sound and modern conservation law, the highly competitive oil and gas industry discovered more new fields in Mississippi last year than in any previous year. According to records of the Oil and Gas Board, 112 wildcat (exploratory) wells were drilled in 38 counties, resulting in the 8 discoveries.

THE FAVORABLE ATTITUDE of Mississippians toward industry generally, as evidenced by the accomplishments of the recent session of the Mississippi legislature, serves as an encouragement for the oil and gas industry to continue to grow and develop.

THIS IS IMPORTANT to you as a citizen because what helps the sound development of our oil and gas resources helps Mississippi and all Mississippians.

Mrs. Lil Carver and "Spanker" Return from School In Morristown N. J.

"My plane trip was wonderful," Mrs. Lillian Carver said, upon her return from Morristown, New Jersey.

About four weeks ago Mrs. Lil left for the Seeing Eye Dog School in Morristown, and two weeks ago she returned to Bay St. Louis with her new companion, a female German boxer who answers to the name of Spanker.

This was Mrs. Carver's first trip by plane and when she arrived at the New Orleans airport and was introduced to the captain of the plane, the only thing she asked him was "Are you going to keep this plane in the air for me?" When the motors started, the first thing Mrs. Lil did was to reach for her Rosary and start praying; by the time the plane landed in Atlanta she felt a little safer, but "I wouldn't get off the plane there because I was afraid I wouldn't get back on." Another thing that gave her confidence in the airplane ride, Mrs. Carver said, was the fact that Eddie Rickenbacker was president of Eastern Airlines. "I felt that God had cared for Rickenbacker during the war I just knew he'd take care of his planes."

UNDER OBSERVATION

Mrs. Carver, who arrived in Morristown on April 10, was introduced to the trainer and the people at the school. The next day her trainer took her for a walk and put a leash on his arm exactly like the dogs wear; "it was so funny to be giving commands to that man and pretending he was a dog." While this was going on the students were under observation by Mr. Myro, who was in charge of the trainers, to see which dog would be suited for them.

GETS DOG

The next day Mr. Myro called the twenty-four students together and started assigning the dogs to their new masters. Eight boxers and sixteen Shepherds were given out that day. "The whole time Mr. Myro was calling out the names and telling the new owners the names of their dogs, I was on edge," Mrs. Lil said. "I just knew I wouldn't get a boxer. Then when he called out Mrs. Lillian Carver, German boxer, color, fawn, female, name, Spanker" I just said 'Isn't that wonderful, he's from my home town,' then I started to cry."

When Mr. Myro heard this he had little to say, but he went downstairs to the office of Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson and told her about Mrs. Carver's dog. Miss Hutchinson told him it was true that Spanker came from Bay St. Louis and that the lady who donated the dog was instrumental in getting Mrs. Lil to Morristown.

All Mr. Myro told Mrs. Lil then was that they would have done anything else but give her that particular dog if they had known. All Mrs. Carver can say is "I know the reason I got that particular dog is because God knew I wanted Spanker." Mrs. Carver knew that Mrs. Wittlesberger had given two dogs to the school; she knew the names of the dogs' mother and of the other puppy, but the only time she heard Spanker's name mentioned was in casual conversation with the original owner. Now she can't remember the names of the other dogs.

RELIES UPON DOG

The school has taught Mrs. Carver to rely upon her dog for safe conduction on the streets and in crowds, but they also tell them that although the public realizes that the dog is capably and efficiently taught, they interfere constantly with its efficiency by attempting to lead graduates of the school across streets, intersections and even around obstructions on the sidewalk. The people must realize they can help Mrs. Carver by letting her help herself and rely upon her dog for safety.

"While the intention of the public is only to be kindly and helpful," Henry A. Colgate, president of the Seeing Eye, Inc., said, "the result produced is similar to that which would occur if you grabbed the arm of a man who was driving an automobile rapidly in heavy traffic. Seeing Eye dogs are competent to guide blind people who have been educated to use them, in all kinds of traffic, wherever they would go. However, Seeing Eye dogs cannot be expected to watch for speeding automobiles and at the same time to cope with the interference of some person who may have taken their master's arm and be pushing or pulling an opposite direction, or may be shouting words of warning.

GOD'S WILL

Mrs. Carver has never been despondent or expressed the desire to see, for as has been said before, she can see mentally although not physically. She has accepted her blindness as the will of God.

In an interview after her return Mrs. Lil told this interesting fact in her life. When she was seven years old she attended a funeral of a lady who had died of what the doctors thought to be a cancer of the brain; she had suffered for a number of years. As he preached the sermon at her funeral, the priest said he knew she went to Heaven because she suffered her purgatory here on earth. Right then Mrs. Carver said she prayed that she'd suffer her purgatory here on earth, too.

PUBLIC DISTRACTS DOG

"The public shows also a perfectly natural, but very harmful tendency to pet Seeing Eye dogs who are busily engaged in guiding their blind masters among pedestrians; they cannot help but be distracted when affectionate pats or careless are offered by many strangers. The public can be most helpful by allowing a Seeing Eye dog and its master to meet and solve the problems of traffic as they have been taught at Morristown, New Jersey. If the public could understand that these two do not need help and do not seek it, even if such help were not definitely harmful, the problem these people face in relation to their own handicap would be more easily solved."

DOG LEARNS JOB

The dogs learn their job through an intensive three months' course at the Seeing Eye School in Morristown. After the dog has been thoroughly educated, a select blind person spends one month learning how to follow the dog's guiding and how to direct the dog by means of spoken commands, the spirit of which, if not always the letter, the dog follows.

When she was losing her sight, the only reason she went to doctors was to please her family; she underwent the operation only because her brother had wanted her to be able to see, and when he died he left her his insurance to help her regain her sight. When the infection that caused her to lose her sight set in Mrs. Carver knew that this was to be her purgatory on earth, "I felt it was an answer to the prayer I uttered when I was a child."

Every day that God sends she offers it up for this special intention, because "if by remaining blind, I can offer it for the souls of my dead relatives, I'd rather stay blind."

This kind, sweet, gentle woman is truly deserving of the best in life and eternal reward for she has been blessed with many gifts that make her loved by all.
